AVOID SINGLE VENDOR DEPENDENCY

MailMeter Cloud provides a separate repository for your eDiscovery outside of your email tenant.

If you are migrating to Microsoft Office 365, we can help...

A key question our customers ask is "how much data to bring?". We can advise on whether to bring all data, partial data or no data.

- MailMeter Cloud can provide a safety blanket: A copy of all data is extracted into mail meter prior to migration, giving users access to historical mail during migration process and also as a fall back if things go wrong or are delayed.
- End User retrieval: end users can search and retrieve any of their own historic emails even if they have been deleted.
- Access to data if any issues with access to cloud.
- Ability to move away from Office 365™ if required in the future.
- Regulatory compliance and policy enforcement.
- Archives multiple email platforms in a single, searchable repository on site.

Why you need MailMeter Cloud with Microsoft Office 365

Microsoft Office 365 email platform provides easy access to email anywhere on any device not to mention greater collaboration ability, and also removes the need for an on-premise exchange server.

Organizations continue to move to the cloud with Microsoft Office 365. However, making the move should not be taken lightly there are a lot of considerations to be made when moving your organisations valuable email data to the cloud, for instance:

- Security
- Data integrity

That is why a 3rd party provider is essential in ensuring your organisation is not left exposed!

So whether you are about to move to the cloud or have already moved MailMeter Cloud is an essential tool to provide your organisation with a bullet proof infrastructure. After all, your data is your organisation!
